What are the Asian Para Games?

The Asian Para Games are an international sporting event organized by the Asian Paralympic Committee (APC), a regional committee of the International Paralympic Committee (IPC), and are, in principle, held every four years.

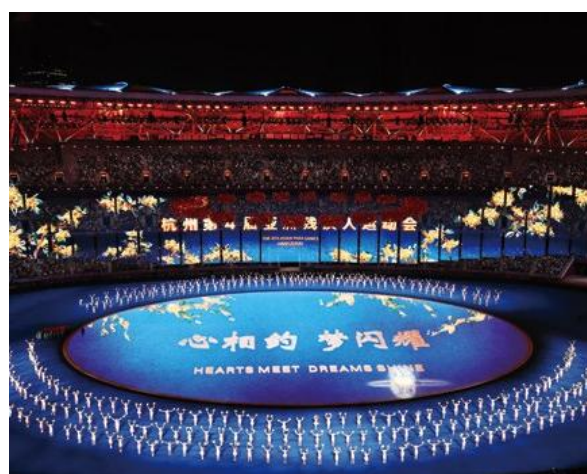

History of the Asian Para Games

The FESPIC Games (formerly the Far East and South Pacific Games for the Disabled), which were initiated by Japan as a sporting event for persons with physical disabilities in the Far East and South Pacific regions, were first held in 1975 and took place nine times through 2006.

Subsequently, building on the achievements of the FESPIC Games and with the aim of promoting the Paralympic Movement in Asia and further advancing competitive para-sports in the region, the Asian Para Games were established as a comprehensive multi-sport event for para-sports in Asia, with the first Games held in Guangzhou, China, in 2010.

The Aichi-Nagoya 2026 Games will mark the fifth edition of the Asian Para Games and the first time the Games are held in Japan.

Games Overview

The hosting of Asian Para Games Aichi-Nagoya 2026 (hereinafter referred to as the “Aichi–Nagoya 2026 Games”) will become the next major goal for the sports community following the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games, and will provide an opportunity to further deepen exchanges with the expanding Asian region. In addition to being a highly significant event for Japan as a whole, the Games will enable Aichi–Nagoya to play a leading role in disability sports in Japan and across Asia, thereby greatly contributing to the promotion of understanding of disabilities and the social participation of persons with disabilities, and ultimately to the realization of an inclusive society that respects diversity.

Games concept

- Centred on the Athletes
- Using Existing Facilities
- Making Full Use of State-of-the-Art Technology
- Traditional and Regional Hospitality
- Hosting the Asian Para Games with Pride and Contributing to Sports Culture
- The realization of an inclusive society

Games Emblem

The Games Emblem, which is the iconic symbol of the 5th Asian Para Games, describes the liveliness of sports with the smooth curves.

By using the design components of the Games Emblem of the 20th Asian Games Aichi-Nagoya 2026, this Emblem intended to collaborate with the Asian Games and expressed the burning passion of Para athletes in warm colors. It also represents the continuity of the passion, which will continue from the Aichi-Nagoya 2026 Asian Para Games to future Asian Para Games.

Games Slogan

IMAGINE ONE HEART
こころを、ひとつに。

The Games Slogan concisely expresses the philosophy of the 5th Asian Para Games.

Hoping that you can imagine the passionate feelings of each and every Para athlete standing on the field through the Slogan and that everyone will unite their minds during the Games by encouraging them to imagine such feelings, this Slogan has been developed and designed.

Paired with the Slogan of the 20th Asian Games Aichi-Nagoya 2026, “IMAGINE ONE ASIA ここで、ひとつに。” these words further deepen its meaning.

Games Core Graphics

The Games Core Graphics serve as a symbolic visual representation of the 5th Asian Para Games, forming the foundation for unique designs used in the Games venues and city decorations.

The design is based on a layered composition that combines the arc, “Glory Bridge,” derived from the Emblem, with “Icons” representing the branding elements of Aichi and Nagoya.

Games Mascot

“UZUMIN,” the Mascot of the 5th Asian Para Games, was born from “water,” which has supported Aichi, the craftsmanship kingdom, becoming one with Shachihoko, the guardian deity of Aichi-Nagoya. The Name “UZUMIN” is based on the Japanese words “Uzu (whirlpool)” and “Izumi (spring),” expanding the concept of “water.”

It represents our hope that the passion of Para athletes will converge like a “whirlpool” and gather in Aichi-Nagoya and the excitement born there will well up like a “spring” and spread throughout Asia at the Games.

Sport Pictogram

Sport pictograms are visual symbols representing each sport, designed to transcend language barriers among participating countries. In addition to fulfilling their primary function of “communicating information,” they also serve as decorative elements that convey the Games’ image. They are used across various items, including the Look at the Games venues.

1. The Act on Prohibition of Unauthorized Ticket Resale

The Act on Ensuring Proper Distribution of Admission Tickets through the Prohibition of Unauthorized Resale of Specified Event Admission Tickets (commonly referred to as the Act on Prohibition of Unauthorized Ticket Resale) came into effect on 14 June 2019. Any unauthorized resale constitutes a serious criminal offence, which may result in fines or other criminal penalties.

The Organising Committee will conduct monitoring and investigations regarding the use of tickets and will take strict action against any individuals or organisations found to be in violation.

We kindly ask for your cooperation in handling and managing tickets with due care and in strict compliance with the prescribed rules.

2. Ticket Type

(1) Child Ticket

This is a discounted ticket for children under 15 years old as of the session date. Please note that age verification may be required at entry.

Child pricing is available only for the lowest seating category in each sport discipline. This ticket offers good value for families and groups attending together.

When children under 15 spectate together with companions aged 15 or over, the spectators aged 15 or over must purchase a General Ticket in the lowest seating category (e.g., for Wheelchair Basketball, spectators aged 15 or over must purchase a General Ticket of Category B, while the children aged 3–14 may purchase a Child Ticket).

*The lowest seat category is General Admission.

Children under 3 years old (not yet in school) may enter free of charge if seated on a guardian's lap. (A ticket is required if a seat is needed.)

If you wish to purchase seats other than the lowest seating category, children aged under 15 must purchase tickets at the standard price.

2. Ticket Type

(2) Disability Discount Ticket

A discounted ticket is available for persons with a disability certificate and any number of accompanying persons. The disability certificate will be checked at the time of entry.

The discount is available only for the lowest seating category for each sport.

If you wish to purchase seats other than the lowest price category, please purchase a standard price ticket.

The lowest seating category is general admission (with some exceptions).

All accompanying persons must enter and exit the venue together with the ticket holder with a disability certificate.

Separate entry or exit is not permitted. There seating category, including higher categories, please purchase a ticket at the regular price, even if you hold a disability certificate.

(3) Wheelchair Ticket

This ticket allows guests using a wheelchair and one accompanying person to attend the event together. (One accompanying person only.)

Wheelchair seating is available for all sessions.

The wheelchair user will be charged the Wheelchair Ticket price, and one accompanying person may attend free of charge. The accompanying seat will be located adjacent to the wheelchair space.

The accompanying person must enter and exit the venue together with the wheelchair user at the same time. Separate entry or exit is not permitted.

3. Advance Registration of Accompanying Persons and Identity Verification

For certain sessions, including the Opening Ceremony and the Closing Ceremony, ticket purchasers are required to submit in advance the details of all attendees, including accompanying persons. Identity verification will be conducted at the time of entry, and admission may be denied if an attendee's identity cannot be confirmed. Thank you for your understanding.

If a violation of the above rules is identified, the Organising Committee may invalidate any tickets already sold and revoke the right to purchase tickets.

Ticketing Programme

A key objective of the Aichi–Nagoya ticketing programme is to fully harness the power of sport to bring people together, deepen bonds in an increasingly diverse society, and create a Games that connects the world toward the future. Through the inspiration of the Games, we aim to deliver a once-in-a-lifetime experience to all spectators and to create an event that will be remembered and talked about for many years to come.

To achieve this objective, the Aichi–Nagoya 2026 Organising Committee will establish a smooth and fair ticketing programme, ensuring that visitors from around the world can attend the Games with confidence and peace of mind. The success of the Games depends on the deep understanding and cooperation of all stakeholders. We kindly ask that you review the contents of this chapter and sincerely request your support as we work together to build a Games that will go down in history.

Opening Ceremony / Closing Ceremony

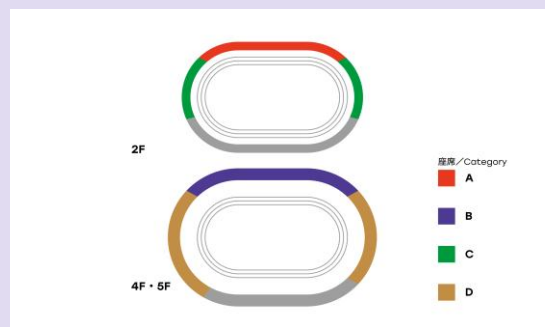

Spreading from Aichi–Nagoya to Asia! Let our “hearts” unite as “one.”

The concept of the Opening and Closing Ceremonies is “HEART BEAT Aichi–Nagoya.” As Japan hosts the Asian Para Games for the very first time, the ceremonies will share a vision of a future inclusive society—one in which everyone living in Asia is respected and can shine together. The courage and spirit of challenge that each para-athlete embodies, will ripple throughout the stadium, moving the hearts of the audience. And at the New Nagoya City Mizuho Park Athletic Stadium, you will witness the moment when the hearts of people across the Asia be united as “one.” Here from Aichi and Nagoya, we will send the emotion and inspiration—born from overcoming various kinds of barriers and from diverse individuality resonating in harmony—across the Asia and the world.

When attending the opening or closing ceremonies, prior registration of visitor information is required. Upon admission, identity verification will be conducted based on the registered visitor information. For details, please note the following:

■ Identity Verification at Entry

At the designated location, please show your admission ticket and valid identification document(s) to the staff. Acceptable identification document(s) is/are either of the following:

- ONE government-issued photo ID (e.g., Driver’s License, My Number Card, Passport, Disability Certificate, Student ID Card, Residence Card, etc.)
- TWO government-issued IDs without photo (e.g., Health Insurance Card, Pension Handbook, Pension Certificate, Copy of Residence Certificate, etc.)

※Please note that if you cannot show the above identification document(s) or cannot verify your identity, you will not be allowed to enter the event venue.

■ How to Register Visitor Information

Further details will be sent later to the email address registered on the website.

■ Notes for the Event Day

- During performances, admission will be restricted, and movement within the venue will be limited at certain times for production purposes.
- Please make sure to arrive by the specified time to be announced on the official ticket information website, for identity verification procedures.
- If you arrive after the specified time, your admission may be refused. Please note that tickets cannot be refunded in such cases.
- As admission procedures are expected to be very crowded, we kindly request your early arrival.

Para Archery(1/2)

Hitting Bullseye with precision and concentration.
Don't miss the tense moment when a single millimetre difference decides victory!

Archery is a sport in which archers shoot arrows at a target from a set distance and compete for points. Hitting the centre of the target earns a highest score (10 points), and points decrease the further from the center the arrow hits. Competitors shoot a set number of arrows, and the total score determines the winner.

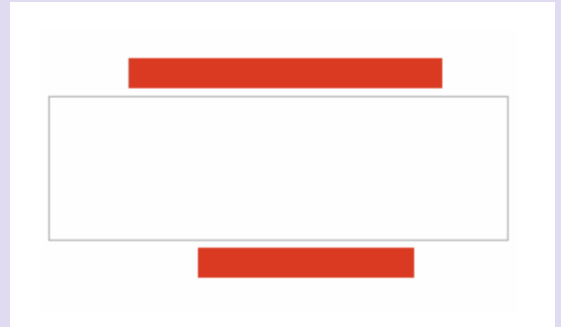

It is also popular as a lifelong sport, and by using equipment suited to one's physique and strength, anyone can enjoy it regardless of age or gender.

Para Badminton

Speedy chairwork and dynamic play

Badminton uses the same net height and basic rules as standard badminton, but some modifications are made depending on the type and degree of disability. The rackets and shuttlecocks used are the same as standard equipment. Players compete in two categories: wheelchair and standing, which are further divided into six classes based on the degree of disability.

Boccia

Incredible concentration, skill, and strategy.
Don't miss this fierce clash.

Boccia is a sport designed for athletes with disabilities, in which participants compete to see how close they can get six red and six blue balls to a white ball called the jack (target ball).

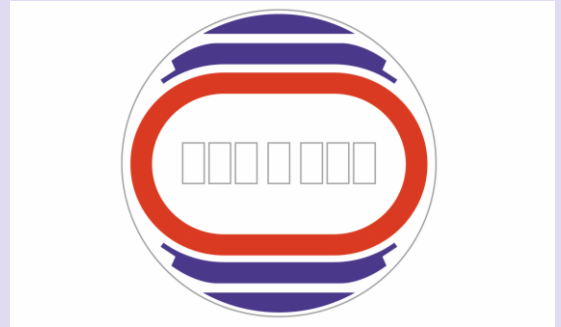

Even if a person has difficulty throwing the balls due to their disability, they can still participate by using a ramp (a ramp device) and communicating their intentions to the ramp operator.

Blind Football

Relying solely on voice and sound, they challenge their limits.
The heat of powerful play ignites the field.

It's a five-a-side sport inspired by futsal, where players sharpen their senses and rely on the sound of the ball, the voices of the goalkeeper, coach, and guide behind the goal to gather information and play.

Often called "invisible football," all players except the goalkeeper wear eye masks and use a ball that makes a rattling sound.

Goalball

A competitive team sport also known as a "martial art in silence"

Goalball is a ball game designed for people with visual impairments. Players roll a ball containing bells and throw it at each other, aiming to score points while defending their own goal.

Defensive players lie down to block balls that can travel up to 50 kilometres per hour, so the sport is also known as a "martial art in silence."

Para Judo(1/2)

Extreme combat driven by precision and instinct

Athletes have visual impairments, but the competition area and basic rules remain the same as in judo. Matches are divided not only by weight category but also by visual acuity and field of vision. For these athletes, the tsurite (grip hand) is considered the most crucial element, as it reveals the opponent's shoulder height. Competitors rely on every sense beyond sight—feeling the grip position, sensing breathing patterns—to fight with absolute precision.

Para Powerlifting

A 3-second drama of tension, explosions, and joy

This is a competition for athletes with lower limb disabilities and those of short stature, and is held under the same rules as a regular bench press. Unlike regular bench presses, the bench press stand has a special structure that allows the entire body to rest on it from head to toe, and athletes compete without their feet touching the ground.

Each athlete is given three attempts, and the ranking is determined by the weight of the barbell they lift.

Shooting Para Sport

The heartbeat gets in the way A sport that pushes “stillness” to its limits

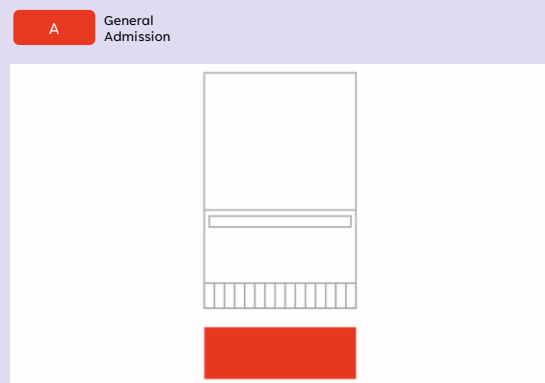

Competitors use firearms known as “rifles” or “pistols” to fire a specified number of rounds within a time limit, competing for the highest total score. Athletes with physical disabilities participate, and some use equipment such as wheelchairs or support stands tailored to their specific disability.

This sport demands intense concentration and is sometimes called the “ultimate mental sport.”

Sitting Volleyball

High-speed volleyball while sitting !
Don't miss the amazing technique performed while sitting!

Sitting volleyball is a six-player volleyball game played by athletes with disabilities in the lower limbs and other areas, who play while sitting down. Players are divided into two classes, and among the six players on the court, only one player is from the class with a milder disability, while the other five are from the class with a more severe disability. The rules are almost the same as those of standard six-player volleyball, but there are also rules unique to sitting volleyball, such as allowing a serve to be blocked directly.

Para Table Tennis(1/2)

Don't miss the moment when struggle turns into brilliance — witness the art of peak performance!

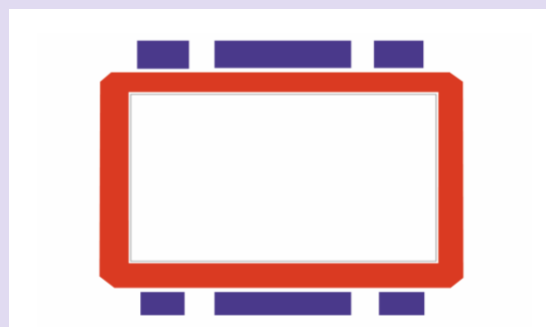

Table tennis is a competitive sport where players face each other across a rectangular table, rallying a ball with rackets to score points. The rackets and balls used are the same as those in standard table tennis. There are three categories: wheelchair users, standing players, and individuals with intellectual disabilities.

To ensure fair competition, players are classified into different classes based on the type and degree of their disabilities.

Para Taekwondo

A martial art that highlights the brilliant footwork

Para Taekwondo is a martial art in which competitors use impressive kicking techniques to score points against each other. Unlike standard taekwondo rules, attacks to the head are prohibited, and only kicks are considered valid techniques.

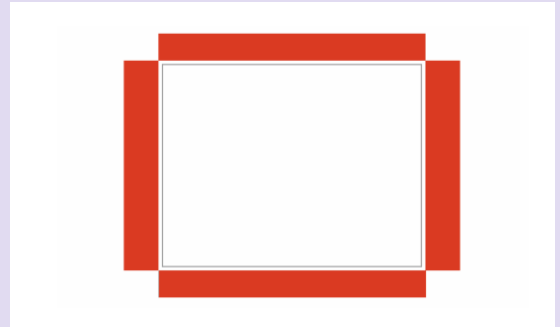

The points awarded vary depending on the type of kick: a simple kick earns 2 points, a kick with a turning (180-degree) or spinning(360-degree) earns 4 points.

Para Fencing(1/3)

The Art of the Ultimate Upper-Body Battle

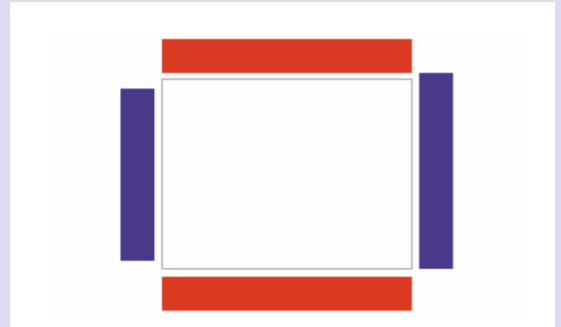

In wheelchair fencing, athletes' wheelchairs are fixed to a device called a "frame," and the distance between opponents is adjusted according to the length of their arms. The competition is conducted using only the upper body. There are specific rules unique to this sport, such as "the athlete must not lift their hips from the seat during the bout" and "the feet must remain on the footrest at all times." Wheelchair fencing consists of three disciplines — foil, épée, and sabre — which differ in the type of weapon used and the valid target area.

Wheelchair Tennis

Watch the stunning chair work!

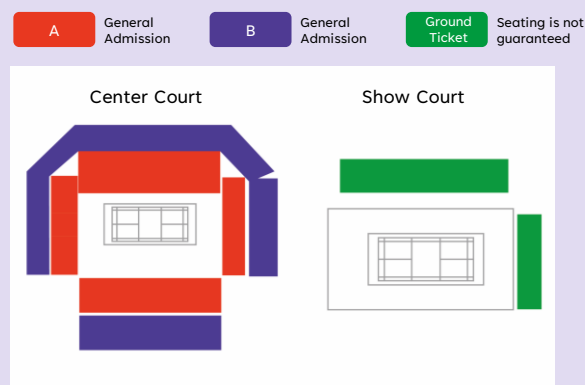

This is a competitive sport where players in wheelchairs hit the ball back and forth with a racket. It is played by athletes with lower limb disabilities, as well as those who have both lower limb disabilities and upper limb impairments such as paralysis. The court, net height, and equipment used are the same as in regular tennis, but while regular tennis requires returning the ball within one bounce, wheelchair tennis allows the ball to be returned within two bounces.

Premium plus

■Premium Plus

(Shippo-yaki / Cloisonné enamel) ¥330,000 (tax incl.)

This exquisite Shippo-yaki (cloisonné enamel) collection features three distinct designs: "Uzumin and Shachihoko" for the Asian Para Games version, and the Kakitsubata (Iris), the official flower of Aichi Prefecture.

Crafted in Shippo-cho, Aichi Prefecture, this art form is known as "Owari Shippo," a designated traditional craft renowned for its superior level of technical skill.

As each piece is individually handcrafted by master artisans at the kiln, no two items are exactly alike. We hope you will enjoy these one-of-a-kind masterpieces as a lasting memory of Aichi-Nagoya 2026 while you experience the games. (Limited quantity available, each with a unique serial number.)

■Premium Plus

(Tokoname Ware - Maneki-neko) ¥66,000 (tax incl.)

Tokoname ware is a traditional craft from Tokoname City, Aichi Prefecture.

The Maneki-neko, in particular, is a symbol of good luck, captivating people with its adorable appearance.

To commemorate the Aichi-Nagoya 2026 Games, we are offering original designs inspired by Aichi and Nagoya, incorporating the colors of the Asian Para Games. Enjoy these original Maneki-neko, each hand-painted by an artisan, while watching the games. (Limited quantity available, each with a unique serial number.)

*Asian Para Games Design Set: Each set contains two beckoning cats.

*Details on items and designs will be announced once confirmed.
